The Stanford University School of Medicine, Department of Ophthalmology seeks highly qualified candidates for full time faculty positions in the University Tenure Line or the Nontenure Line-Research at the level of Assistant, Associate, or full Professor. Faculty rank and salary will be commensurate with qualifications and experience.

- The predominant criterion for appointment in the University Tenure Line is a major commitment to research and teaching.
- The major criterion for appointment for faculty in the Non-tenure Line (Research) is evidence of high-level performance as a researcher for whose special knowledge a programmatic need exists.

We seek outstanding applicants with demonstrated research distinction. The strongest candidates will be scientists or physician-scientists who demonstrate a track record of, or commitment to, a career incorporating scholarly activity, either laboratory-based or human subjects research, including evidence of success with external peer review and funding. Candidates’ program and goals should emphasize ocular- or vision-related research, broadly defined.

Qualified applicants should submit a curriculum vitae, statement of research accomplishments and goals (3 page limit), and names of three references by October 15 to:

Jeffrey L. Goldberg, M.D., Ph.D.
Professor and Chairman
 c/o Chet Frost
Stanford University School of Medicine
Department of Ophthalmology
Byers Eye Institute at Stanford
2452 Watson Court
Palo Alto, CA 94303-5353
Phone: 650-736-4211
Email: cffrost@stanford.edu

Stanford University is an equal opportunity employer and is committed to increasing the diversity of its faculty. It welcomes nominations of and applications from women, members of minority groups, protected veterans and individuals with disabilities, as well as from others who would bring additional dimensions to the university’s research, teaching and clinical missions.